Sanow (right) was diggin' it on Saturday, Feb. 3 on the north end of Forest Grove when he and a host of volunteers from Forest Grove's Foursquare Church descended on Beal Pond. Greg Shipp (bottom right), arranged for Clean Water Services to deliver an assortment of ash, willow, alder and other native trees to help reforest the area around the pond. Shipp, who works for Pacific University's B Street Permaculture Project, figures he's helped plant more than 3,000 trees in the area and hasn't found a better crew than the church members. "I can't get enough plants for this group," Shipp said. "They plant them so fast."
